

면역대사학

Immunometabolism

This course will provide a view for immunometabolism by focusing on Innate immunity, Adaptive immunity, and Translational immunometabolism. During this coursework, students are expected to learn the principle of basic immunology and translational research.